Joe Morris

A lecture within “Tectonics – In English”, HSLU T&A, IA

Joe started up as Joe Morris Architects in May 2004, co-founded Duggan Morris Architects in October 2004, and now directs Morris+Company, an evolution of the two earlier practices.

He takes a strategic design lead on every project undertaken by the company; reviews all design work at key project stages, guiding the direction of travel as the project is implemented so that the conceptual logic of the design is carried through into the completed architecture.

He has taught at the Bartlett in London, Universidad de Navarra in Pamplona, and the Escuela Técnica Superior de Arquitectura La Salle Barcelona. He has also been a visiting examiner at Plymouth and Oxford Brookes universities, and has lectured widely on the culture of practice on an international stage.
